

The French and Indian War: 1754-1763

Teacher's Education kit for Grades 4-6

This kit is a wonderful resource for teaching the French and Indian War and is very helpful in preparing students for field trips to Fort Necessity National Battlefield.

The kit contains:

A Teacher's Guide

- Teacher's Background Information
Comprehensive and yet not too long the teacher's background information has 14 pages covering the French and Indian War and its consequences and 5 pages covering Eastern Woodland American Indian life. Additionally there are 3 black-and-white reproducible maps.
- Lessons
Students will learn about George Washington's trip through the wilderness when he was only 21 years old and all his life threatening adventures during the French and Indian War. They also explore why Washington signed the surrender document at Fort Necessity. Find out what motivated the French, the British and the American Indians before the conflict began. These are examples of some of the 19 lessons included in the teacher's guide. Each lesson has instructions, the necessary student readings or activity worksheets and the national history and geography standards the lesson meets. The lessons are centered not only on the history of the French and Indian War, but also around the biography cards and artifacts in the kit.
- Bibliography
The bibliography is annotated.
- French and Indian War sites in western Pennsylvania
The teacher's guide also contains information about the seven French and Indian War sites in western Pennsylvania, including additional lessons.
- Overhead Transparencies
Two overhead transparencies are included for use in the lessons. One depicts George Washington's mission to Fort LeBoeuf and the other shows the meeting between Benjamin Franklin and General Edward Braddock.

Biography Cards

The kit has 27 biography cards featuring 9 American Indians, 9 French and 9 British participants. In addition to text many of the cards have images of primary documents or artifacts associated with the person on the card. Each card has a portrait or illustration of the person and a time line showing when the person lived.

Artifacts

The three reproduction artifacts were chosen to help the students understand the three cultures involved in the French and Indian War. The artifacts are a strip of wampum, a quill pen and a Spanish dollar.

Color Wall Map

The kit contains a large color map of eastern North America during the French and Indian War. This is very helpful for understanding the three cultures that fought in the French and Indian War and their locations.
